DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-19 are pending.

Applicant's election of Group II (claims 1-19) w/traverse in paper filed on 8/16/06 is acknowledged. The arguments against the restriction will be addressed in the first office action.

In view of applicant's clarification of the terms raCB7b and raRG7b, groups IV and V have been joined with Group II. In addition and upon further clarification of the aptamers by the applicant, another restriction and election of species is required for group II.

NOTE: In response to applicant's assertion that, "the Commission has determined that normally ten independent and distinct nucleotides sequences constitute a reasonable number for examination purposes in a single application." MPEP 2434 recites: Under this policy, in most cases, up to 10 independent and distinct nucleotide sequences will be examined in a single application without restriction.

Claims 1, 2, and 12-13 link(s) inventions I-IV (previously I-VI). The restriction requirement between the linked inventions is subject to the nonallowance of the linking claim(s), claims 1, 2, and 12-13. Upon the indication of allowability of the linking claim(s), the restriction requirement as to the linked inventions shall be withdrawn and any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable linking claim(s) will be rejoined and fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Claims that require all the limitations of an allowable linking claim will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

Applicant(s) are advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, the allowable linking claim, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application. Where a restriction requirement is withdrawn, the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 121 are no longer applicable. In re Ziegler, 443 F.2d 1211, 1215, 170 USPQ 129, 131-32 (CCPA 1971). See also MPEP § 804.01.

Election/Restrictions

Group II (claims 1-19) is subject to an additional restriction since it is not considered to be a proper genus/Markush. See MPEP 803.02 - PRACTICE RE MARKUSH-TYPE CLAIMS - If the members of the Markush group are sufficiently few in number or so closely related that a search and examination of the entire claim can be made without serious burden, the examiner must examine all the members of the Markush group in the claim on the merits, even though they are directed to independent and distinct inventions. In such a case, the examiner will not follow the procedure described below and will not require restriction. Since the decisions in In re Weber, 580 F.2d 455, 198 USPQ 328 (CCPA 1978) and In re Haas, 580 F.2d 461, 198 USPQ 334 (CCPA 1978), it is improper for the Office to refuse to examine that which applicants regard as their invention, unless the subject matter in a claim lacks unity of invention. In re Harnish, 631 F.2d 716, 206 USPQ 300 (CCPA 1980); and Ex parte Hozumi, 3 USPQ2d 1059 (Bd. Pat. App. & Int. 1984). Broadly, unity of invention exists where compounds included within a Markush group (1) share a common utility, and (2) share a substantial structural feature disclosed as being essential to that utility.

Group II specifically claims signaling aptamers raf17 (SEQ ID NO: 5), raf17-U61C, raf-U52C, and raf17s that are targeted to and modulate the expression of a particular gene. Although the sequences claimed each target and modulate expression of a particular gene, the instant sequences are considered to be unrelated, since each sequence claimed is structurally and functionally independent and distinct for the following reasons: each sequence has a unique nucleotide sequence, each sequence targets a different and specific region of a distinct nucleic acid, and each sequence, upon binding to a distinct nucleic acid, functionally modulates (increases or decreases) the expression of the gene and to varying degree. As such the Markush/genus of sequences in claims 1-19 are not considered to constitute a proper genus, and is therefore subject to restriction. Furthermore, a search of more than one (1) of the sequences claimed in claims present an undue burden on the Patent and Trademark Office due to the complex nature of the search and corresponding examination of more than one (1) of the claimed sequences. In view of the foregoing, one (1) sequence is considered to be a reasonable number of sequences for examination. Accordingly, applicants are required to elect one (1) sequence from raf17 (SEQ ID NO: 5), raf17-U61C, raf-U52C, and raf17s.

In addition, this application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: fluorescent dye selected from fluorescein, Cascade Blue, Texas Red, or Rhodamine Green. The species are independent or distinct because each aptamer has a different label, wherein the label yields or does not yields a signal.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1, 6, 7, 12, 16, and 17 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
